THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE

MEMPHIS

Asklepieion: a word derived from the name of Aesculapius, the Greek god of medicine and healing. Aesculapius was honored and worshipped throughout the Greek world by persons seeking the healing powers of the physician. Temples were erected in honor of Aesculapius near healing springs or on high mountains. Those who worshipped him were known as Aesculapae, therefore, the ancient city of Memphis, on the Nile River, there was a temple where persons went for worship and for care. In our own city of Memphis, on the Mississippi River, people come to our Asklepieion for healing and care.

How can we truly characterize a day in the life? For each day is unique, just as every experience and every patient we encounter is different. In the following pages we have captured glimpses of memories from your days at UT Memphis. We invite you to look ahead to "a day in the life . . ."

When I reflect on my experiences in medical school, certain days or events always stand out as being memorable. But somehow my thoughts always turn to the people who were there to share these memories with me. I look at the events captured in these candid, mere moments in time, and yet they bring back so much more. It is impossible to represent all of what we have experienced during this four-year journey. But look on and I hope you will join me in reliving . . .

Remember the first day of orientation? Everyone seated in the G.E.B., suddenly thrust together for the first time. Looking over your shoulder you see one of the guys who interviewed on the same day as you. You know, the goober, the one you thought could never get in. Then you begin to hear the speech about how the people in this room will be your closest friends when it is all said and done. You just shook your head in disbelief. And now you say — who would have thought?

CLASS OF 1988

Four years of medical school are almost completed. The "basic science years": eternal classes in identical classrooms, our cadavers, class parties and Christmas parties with enormous Christmas trees, a four-and-one-half foot stack of class notes and National Boards Part I. The third year: the first time delivering a baby, the first death of a patient, arriving at 4:30 a.m. on obstetrics and staying until 10:00 p.m. with the surgeons, and "trauma admission by air" at the Elvis Presley Trauma Center. The fourth year: getting a little rest while wondering about how to work next year even harder than we did last year, and taking time to enjoy friends that the residency Match is about to send across the country.

Graduation will be a great day for us and all those people who supported us during this time. We will be proud finally to stand together to take our oath and receive our degree. Years from now it will be good to look at these pages and be reminded of all these people and experiences that have transformed us into physicians.

With pockets bulging with every conceivable instrument and illegible notecards, the Class of 1989 entered the clinics after the seemingly endless years of the Basic Sciences. The M-3 class quickly assimilated to the new surroundings, learning the meanings of enumerable acronyms, the experiences of Gailor Clinic, and the phrase "I was on call."

While the class has been scattered throughout this year, it has, nevertheless, retained feelings of identity and unity, perhaps made stronger by the camaraderie of shared suffering. As the year nears its end, the M-3 class looks forward to the days of M-4 bliss!

The Class of 1990 is a oneness of diversity. The diversity arises from the mixed backgrounds, with families as far away as California, Michigan and Florida, and social and political interests ranging from right to left to nonexistent. The oneness is simple — medicine and the trip through medical school.

As the class nears the halfway point of the journey, we see both forward and backward. We look back at each hurdle already leaped in the race of basic sciences, and we glance forward at the yet unchallenged marathon of clinical years. We all hope to cross the finish line together. Given a little teamwork, there is no doubt we will.

CLASS OF 1991

R. Richards

R. Richards

What is an M-1? Possibly the first descriptions that come to mind are: rookie, green horn, neophyte, anxious, excited, enthusiastic, uninformed, awe-struck and first year medical student. Sometimes, they even put on white coats and look dangerously similar to physicians.

They are placed in, to say the least, a largely unfamiliar situation comprised of new people, usually a new town, a lot of red tape and often an acute lack of money, in addition to the likelihood that the curriculum will necessitate a marked life-style change. Finally, M-1s are people who for one reason or another have embarked into a life of hard work, challenge, STUDY, rewards and hopefully, much happiness.

The class of 1991 is as diverse as any other large group of people one cares to look at. Our class has mothers, fathers, nurses, scientists, wrestling fans, etc. We, undeniably, have one thing in common — a four year mountain to climb. Best of all, the great majority of us will achieve that goal and even have some fun while doing it.

It's 5:50 a.m., I've already hit the snooze button three times and yet I feel the need to hit it one more time, to sink back into a warm, dark, blissful sleep. But this time I lay in bed and calculate the time it will take to complete the three S's, to throw on my scrubs, to drive to Pauline Garage, to enter the V.A., and finally to arrive on 12-S. Actually I have fallen back asleep easily before the part about putting on my scrubs — to sleep for nine more minutes. . . . You just don't quite appreciate the five or six hours of sleep you might get while on surgery (if you're lucky) like you savor those nine minutes between snoozes.

Phi Chi Medical fraternity, Alpha Beta chapter, was officially installed at UT Memphis on April 4, 1919 and has grown to be the largest fraternity on campus. This year is no exception. With an excellent rush, we initiated over 40 new members and continue to boast a membership of well over 100 members.

This Fall's activities included a "Back to the Basics Party", in which the entire medical community was invited to participate. We also helped sponsor the infamous "Halloween Party" and the "South of the Border Party." Also scheduled for this year are the "Super Bowl Party", "Casino Party", and of course, our yearly "Pig Roast."

Phi Chi is proud of each and every alumni, but we are perhaps most proud to claim Dr. Robert L. Summitt, Dean of the College of Medicine, as a fellow member.

This is my last chance to give credit where it is due. I really am indebted to all the many late hours of help and to the support I received from Pam Moon, Jan Dugan, Randy Richards, and Karen Williams. They are true professionals. And, of course, a special thanks to those who contributed the candid photography.

The pages are completed, my work is done, yet there were many times when I thought I would never get this section completed. Nothing like a good deadline to get those creative juices flowing!

As we all go our separate ways, some across country, let us remember fondly the time we had together. It is my pleasure to dedicate this section of the Asklepieion to the Class of 1988.

Hold fast to dreams, for if dreams die, life is like a broken-winged bird that cannot fly.

-Langston-

I believe we entered this life-long journey in Medicine with a dream. Now more than ever, is the time to see it through.

Class Winners include: Clinical — D-4 — Bobby Slosberg and Scott Bellack; D-3 — Dean Stacy; Research — D-4 — Robert Smith; D-3 — Rick Hawkins.

HONOR COUNCIL

Since September of 1984, the Honor Council in the College of Dentistry has been composed of four students from each class, elected in the spring of their first year of dental school. Prior to this time, six students were elected. It is the collective responsibility of the members of the Honor Council to protect the educational process by addressing possible violations of the Honor Code.

HONORARY ODONTOLOGICAL SOCIETY

The Richard Doggett Dean and Marguerite Taylor Dean Honorary Odontological Society was formed in December of 1948. The purpose of this society is "To propagate and perpetuate professional ideals, ethics, and techniques in the field of dentistry." Active members consist of University of Tennessee dental students who have met the high qualifications of this society. They must be in the upper one-half of their class scholastically, have a deep interest in the dental profession, have gentlemanly conduct and character above reproach. They must also show promise of making important contributions to the profession of dentistry.

The ASDA at the University of Tennessee, Memphis, serves as the student governing body of the College of Dentistry. Membership is optional for all students; however, ninety-five percent of the student body became members. The Executive Council consists of elected representatives of dental fraternities and the Honor Council. The Executive Council also consists of five positions which are filled by election, by the whole student body: President, President-Elect, Treasurer, Secretary, and Editor. Every Thursday, the Executive Council meets over lunch to discuss matters which need to be "ironed out" in the dental school, whether it is in relation to the administration, faculty, parking services or even student life. The Chapter was especially proud of its five members that were national representatives — the most representation of any school in the nation. UT Memphis was also honored to have the outstanding national delegate — Mark Pitts.

The Xi Psi Phi Dental Fraternity is cordially known as ZIP. Several members reside in the fraternity house located at 249 Garland Street. There is a fully-equipped laboratory which is always available for use. Intramural sports, Friday Happy Hours, and monthly theme parties are some of the social activities ZIPS are involved in. The ZIPS are also involved with community service projects such as a trip to the Memphis Zoo with children from the local Muscular Dystrophy Foundation. Professionalism and academic progress are important in Xi Psi Phi fraternity and are exemplified in this year's Second Annual Alumni Weekend which includes an all-day continuing education course offered for anyone associated with the ZIP fraternity. Many lifelong friendships are made within the fraternity; and thus camaraderie exists among members, faculty, and administration.

Psi Omega was founded in Georgia in 1842 by William Hamilton and one of his colleagues. Since then, this two-member fraternity has grown to cover the nation and to join thousands of dental students and alumni as brothers. Psi Omega at the University of Tennessee has been an important part of campus life for decades. The Psi-O house, which is located near Overton Park, provides the perfect location for students to spend their free time. It is the site of numerous campus gatherings and offers Psi-Os an outdoor pool to relax by. Psi-O was founded to establish a means for students to get to know one another, to form friendships and to help each other. The basics of Psi-O is that there are other outlets besides academic that are important in obtaining a well-rounded education. Psi-O is therefore an active participant in intramural sports, charity fundraisers, and campus parties. Psi Gamma Chapter here at UT is proud of their 130 members, and we are especially excited to have become the largest Psi-O Chapter in the nation.

IN MEMORY OF
DR. JAMES ANDREWS,
D.D.S.
1921-1987

Dr. James T. Andrews died on July 8, 1987 after 35 years of dedicated and exemplary service to the UT College of Dentistry. He was involved in several academic areas during his earlier years in dental education, but he was best known by students, fellow teachers, and dental educators nationwide for his many years as professor and chairman of operative dentistry, the position held at the time of his death. Dr. Andrews was recognized as an institution in the College of Dentistry.

Dr. Andrews graduated with honors from the UT College of Dentistry in 1952 and immediately became a full-time faculty member in operative dentistry and pedodontics. Since he had been an officer in the U.S. Marine Corps and a college football coach before going to dental school, he was a mature dental student who, upon graduation, entered into a professional career with an air of maturity, stability, and professional bearing that most young teachers have to grow into over the years. His leadership qualities were soon recognized and he began early receiving and efficiently handling administrative assignments along with his teaching duties. After three years of a dual role in operative dentistry and pedodontics, he became acting chief of the division of operative dentistry in 1955. A year later he was appointed chief of the division of operative dentistry. He was an excellent administrator and an outstanding teacher throughout his career.

"Jim left his mark on every graduating student and will be sorely missed as an educator and a gentleman," said Dean William F. Slagle. "With the passing of Jim Andrews, the university has lost one of its finest teachers and the faculty has lost a most respected colleague."
Herbert Butts, D.D.S.

All members of these classes of UT dental students will remember Jim Andrews in some way; many fondly, most respectfully, some fearfully, but none can deny the influence he had on 75 percent of the dentists practicing dentistry in Tennessee today.
William W. (Bill) Rose D.D.S., F.A.G.D.

Delta Sigma Delta was established by far-sighted professionals — men with vision — who possessed the desire to render the best dental services in the highest professional manner. On November 15, 1882, seven dental students met at Mrs. Slattery's boarding house in Ann Arbor and founded the first dental fraternity in the world. It was intended to bring together not only the most talented students of dentistry while in school, but by the establishment of the Supreme Chapter, it brought in the outstanding teachers and practitioners. Professional fraternities have strong faculty support because of the high standards required for the establishment of a chapter on a campus. A good scholastic average is an important criterion for membership. These fraternities feature active alumni associations. Nowhere in the history of Delta Sigma Delta has it been written that we must initiate the largest number of candidates. On the contrary, the literature is replete with the philosophy of selectivity. However, Delta Sigma Delta is the second largest fraternity on the UT Memphis campus. The Kappa Kappa chapter is the largest and fastest growing chapter in the country amongst Delta Sigs.

CALIFORNIA HERE WE COME

The 1989 Pharm. D. Class Pack Their Bags

Destination: San Francisco

As We Remember: Breakfast at Sears ... finally getting to meet Bill's wife ... Martha playing hookie from Syntex ... When a guy bought Larry and Scott a drink in a bar (and Larry drank his) ... Jane stealing the flower arrangement from the Hyatt and getting married ... Mike and Tina ... "Elvis" Roberson ... Reenie and her gold card ... Cyndi on Castro Street ... The party in Lynn and Debbie's room ... Syntex's wonderful hospitality ... Pat-Self-Lalonde showing his underwear ... Nancy speaking (or was that drinking) white russians ... The drive down the Pacific Coast ... Amy and Pam in bed at ten o'clock each night ... Matt allowing Shannon's sweater to be stolen at knife-point ... Tina and Sam found passed out in the restroom at Hobnobbers ... Cable car rides ... Gary Cupit the tour guide and lecturer at Syntex ... Debbie saying she knew "Mr. Lichterman" as she got thrown out of Hard Rock cafe ... The San Francisco night-life, was there any? ... Lori G. and Adelia with the Stanford football team at Palo Alto ... Halloween night on Castro Street — Folks it doesn't get any better than this ...

As our class will soon travel to many different cities in Tennessee, we will take these memories into our future as we remember the life-time of friends we have made and the experiences we have shared making the Pharmacy Class of 1989 second to none!

DRUG FAIR

During the Drug Fair, drug representatives share information about new drugs and new techniques to students and faculty. This year the generic vs. trade name debate promises to be of great interest.

TOURNAMENT

Parents, students, and alumni gathered at the golf tournament for fun and games. This fund-raising event was a great success. Thanks, Trey.

REGIONAL MEETING

At this year's regional meeting, Robert Dinwiddie was elected Regional Delegate. Congratulations!

COMPETITION

In this year's Patient Counseling Competition all four classes were represented. Congratulations to Tom Lovell, this year's winner!

Honor Council

The Honor Code of the University of Tennessee, Memphis is implemented so that student academic affairs can be conducted in accordance with the highest standards of ethical and professional conduct, thereby "promoting personal honor and integrity, in the best traditions of the health science professions." The Honor Council of the College of Pharmacy consists of three elected representatives and one elected alternate representative from each class. The faculty advisor is Walter L. Fitzgerald, Jr., who was appointed by the Dean and assists the Council in its operations.

Pharmacy Student Government Association

The major project of the 1987-88 Pharmacy Student Government Association has been the establishment of a Drug Abuse Team. With growing interest in the problem of drug abuse in Shelby County and the surrounding area, the drug abuse team presents an excellent opportunity to promote the pharmacist as the "drug expert". The drug abuse team is made up primarily of second and third year students who have been trained in the field of substances of abuse. These students travel into our area high schools and junior high schools to present a symposium dealing with substances of abuse. The PSGA recognizes the fact that the community will benefit from the drug abuse team, but from a somewhat selfish standpoint, we also realize that this project will polish the communication skills of the students involved. Aside from these two objectives, and with more and more students shying away from health care fields, we don't believe that we could find a better tool for student recruitment than the visibility of the drug abuse team in our area educational institutions.

This year's PSGA council has made great strides in soliciting future alumni support for the college of pharmacy. After a meeting with the alumni board of directors, we learned that only one-fifth of the colleges alumni made monetary contributions to the institution in 1986. Because we believe that the alumni making these contributions are synonymous with those participating in the activities of the college, we decided to search for ways that we as students could help increase alumni support. Beginning this spring (1988), each member of the third year class will receive a pledge card with which he or she can designate the amount they wish to contribute annually after graduation to the college's alumni scholarship fund. Although our Dean has assured us that his staff will send out annual letters reminding the alumni of their pledges, as students, our goal is not a monetary one. Our goal is to increase the number of possible clerkships and externships for future students in the college of pharmacy as we believe that by keeping in touch with our alumni's pocketbooks, we can keep in touch with their interest as well.

These are just a couple of examples of the work of this year's PSGA council. Congratulations goes out to all members for a successful year.

A New Beginning

If it could be said that the UT Memphis Graduate School had one banner year, it would have to have been 1987-88. Things changed at the fastest rate in the institution's 65-year history.

 The School became a College. After an exceptionally long puberty, the graduate school matured in status and name to become the College of Graduate Health Sciences.

 The university administration's commitment to propel UT Memphis into the forefront of the nation's research universities was assisted by increasing the emphasis put on the biomedical sciences. This move was helped, in part, by the chairs of excellence program. Graduate students are involved in the majority of laboratories sponsored by these exceptional scientists.

 For the first time since 1979, a new dean took the captain's chair to steer the graduate study programs. Dr. Raymond Cypess arrived in January to take the reins of the new college and propel it into the future. As a microbiologist, epidemiologist and veterinarian, Cypess brought from Cornell University a broad list of qualifications with which to lead the college.

 And finally the students. The number of doctoral and master's degree research students has grown significantly in the last few years. These are the scientists of the future. Cypess has vowed to expand the graduate student program and make it more visible in the university community.

The goals set by Cypess for the college are simple:

- * Recruit the best faculty
- * Recruit the best students
- * Establish an operational and intellectual environment that enhances and provides research and research training.

A tall order but ultimately, a successful one.

(These reflections are by the editor of the graduate college section — a patient student spouse who has seen a true metamorphosis of this school/college over the past four years. These are her impressions of the past and her hopes for the future.)

Teachers need to get together, exchange ideas and generally unwind.

Teaching is a time honored profession that is held in high esteem and which has many rewards.

But there are some pitfalls.

Administration & Planning

Administration and Planning students play an important role. They have the responsibility of planning and developing policies and procedures by which others function in the Social Work profession. The UT College of Social Work A & P students, under careful guidance and instruction, develop skills for carrying out their duties while emphasis is placed on being genuine and humanistic.

CLASS OF 1988

We, the graduates of '88, will now make our way down the aisle to accept our degrees, the keys to a more specialized profession.

We shall no longer wander the halls of UT College of Social Work. We must now exit the classrooms and enter board rooms, council rooms, and offices.

As we step out of UTCSW's "Day in the Life," we step up to a new life of our own making. Whether in private or public service, we shall be representatives of a great institution, UTCSW. Therefore let us never forget to be our best for there are others who will follow behind us.

"A day in the life ..." is the theme of the 1988 Asklepieion yearbook. The staff has put together a fantastic depiction of what it is really like to be a UT Memphis student. There are many long hours of studying and a lot of hard work and dedication, but somehow students manage to find time to enjoy life along the way. The friends you've made during your years at UT Memphis will be special to you for the rest of your life. You will see them again at professional meetings and alumni reunions. That's when this yearbook will be really important to you. Faculty members will even become more important to you as you leave their careful and watchful guidance to launch out on your own. You'll be glad that you have a yearbook to remind you of all your UT experiences.

I'm not sure that people really realize how much time and effort goes into the production of a quality yearbook. The students and staff members who put this together for you have the foresight to realize that it is important to have a book like this and that its importance will grow as the years go by. It's very difficult to ask people to give up their precious personal time for a project like this. You should applaud them when you see them because they have all sacrificed many hours when they could have been studying, working, seeing their loved ones or just plain resting. Instead, they were creating, planning, making telephone calls, taking pictures, writing, identifying faces, drawing layouts, proofing and staying on a tight schedule to get it all in on time!

I have had the privilege of working with many yearbook staffs, both as a student myself, and as an advisor. This year's staff was by far the most professional, responsible and creative staff I have ever worked with. Congratulations goes to each of them for creating a yearbook that was chosen by the Taylor Publishing Company to be a sales sample for the nation! A big honor in the yearbook world!

A special thanks is extended to Jan Dugan for her organizational skills and superb photography and art talents. Also to Karen Williams for the long hours of typing copy and tracking down names and people to pull all of this together.

You all did a great job!! UT Memphis — ENJOY!!
