

Annemarie Anglim

Annemarie is a Tennessee native – raised in Maryville, TN near the Smoky Mountain National Park. She earned her undergraduate degree in anthropology and Appalachian State University in Boone, NC. College intern experiences in community service and public health ultimately led her to the mountains of southwest Virginia, where she graduated from Virginia College of Osteopathic Medicine in Blacksburg. Whether it's hiking, kayaking, rock climbing, or horseback riding, she will take any opportunity to be outdoors with her dog, Opie, and finance, Graham.
