HINMAN STUDENT RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

co-sponsored by the Hinman Dental Society with participation of Procter & Gamble Company, and the Tennessee Dental Association Foundation

Friday afternoon, Saturday, and Sunday morning
November 10-12, 2023
at the historic Peabody Hotel in Memphis, Tennessee

We look forward to welcoming you to the Hinman Student Research Symposium in Memphis. This is your invitation to be part of a Symposium featuring poster and oral presentations by students and graduate trainees participating in Dental Research. Abstracts of the presentations will be printed and distributed nationally.

The program consists of competitive scientific sessions with awards for the best presentations, a banquet with a nationally acclaimed speaker, exhibits, and opportunities for getting acquainted with fellow dental students as well as touring our beautiful Bluff City in our atmosphere of Southern hospitality.

The Symposium begins on Friday at noon with registration and poster setup followed by a reception and the welcoming banquet. The Symposium continues on Saturday with morning and afternoon scientific sessions and many opportunities for fun and making new friends. Following a tour of Elvis Presley's Graceland Mansion, you'll be on your own for the evening on Beale Street, the "Home of the Blues." On Sunday morning, the scientific sessions will continue and conclude with the presentation of awards.

Memphis offers many opportunities for exploration from the Pyramid, Sun Studios, and boat tours on the river, to the lesser-known but worthwhile National Civil Rights Museum, the Pink Palace Museum, Brooks Art Gallery, Dixon Gardens, and the unique Ornamental Metal Museum with a spectacular view of the mighty Mississippi. Tree-shaded parks and neighborhoods, good food, and warm Southern hospitality await you.

Late October in Memphis is the peak of the fall color season with some of the best weather of the year—sunny and warm in the daytime and pleasantly cool in the evening.

Because everyone who participates contributes to recognizing student efforts in research, the Symposium won't be complete without you.

ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS:

Who? Dental students and graduate trainees participating in research are eligible to attend and present their studies in oral and poster sessions. Please complete the abstract and registration form and send it to the address below.

A travel award is available to each of the participating Dental Schools to defray the cost of travel to Memphis. Additional students from each school are invited to attend with travel support from their institution. Hotel accommodation for two nights, the Welcoming Banquet, breakfast for two days, lunch on Saturday, and entertainment will be provided by the Symposium's co-sponsors.

What? The University of Tennessee College of Dentistry is the host for the Symposium, which is co-sponsored by the Hinman Dental Society and supported by the Procter & Gamble Company, and the Tennessee Dental Association Foundation. The program consists of scientific sessions with oral and poster presentations by dental students, a reception, the welcoming banquet with a nationally-known speaker, exhibits, tours, and awards.

When? Most students will arrive in Memphis on the morning or early afternoon of Friday, November 10. Registration and poster setup begins at noon. The reception begins at 6:00 pm, and the banquet begins at 7:00 pm. Scientific sessions will be held Saturday morning and afternoon, November 11, followed by tours and entertainment. On Sunday morning, November 12, the scientific sessions continue and conclude with the awards presentation. Most students will return home Sunday by noon or early afternoon.

Where? All sessions will be held at the historic Peabody Hotel—the South's Grand Hotel—in downtown Memphis, Tennessee. The Peabody Hotel celebrated its 150th Anniversary in 2019. Memphis is served by major airlines and by Amtrak. Memphis is easily reached by major highways including I-55 and I-40.

Why? The purpose of the Symposium is to honor student efforts in Dental Research. Students will meet and exchange information with other students from all parts of the nation and receive recognition for their efforts in research in a rich atmosphere of "Southern Hospitality".
