

Medical Students: Apply for Anesthesiology Research Fellowships through FAER

The Foundation for Anesthesia Education and Research is seeking applications from medical students for the 2015 Medical Student Anesthesia Research Fellowship Summer and Year-Long Programs.

FAER's medical student fellowships provide funding to support medical students over a summer or a year in focusing on anesthesiology research, training in scientific methods and techniques, and learning how to incorporate research into a medical career.

Medical student anesthesia research fellowships are awarded through an annual application cycle. For more information about the MSARF program and eligibility requirements, visit FAER.org/MSARF and download the program instructions available on the right-hand side of the page.

Medical Student Anesthesia Research Fellowship (MSARF) Summer Program

The summer fellowship provides medical students with an eight-week research experience within an academic anesthesiology department. During the fellowship, students participate in research and training activities, as well as clinical anesthesia activities. In addition, medical student summer fellows have the opportunity to make a scientific presentation at the American Society of Anesthesiologists annual meeting. Students receive a stipend during the fellowship and additional funds to offset their travel costs should they elect to present at the ASA annual meeting.

Student Application Key Dates (Summer Program)

Online application opens November 15, 2014
Applications due December 15, 2014
Award notifications made by January 31, 2015
Fellowships take place throughout late spring / summer 2015

Medical Student Anesthesia Research Fellowship (MSARF) Year-Long Program

FAER's year-long medical student fellowship is for those who would like to spend a year focusing on anesthesiology research and receive additional training, and who have completed their core clinical rotations but have not yet graduated. Students who participate in the 2015-16 program will present their research at the 2016 ASA annual meeting.

Through the program, medical student fellows can expect:

- One year of full-time research in anesthesiology
- A formal mentor-protégé relationship with an experienced investigator
- Training in scientific methods and research techniques
- A $32,000 stipend, plus additional funding to cover relocation, housing, health insurance, travel to national meetings and other related expenses
